

Gov. Foster Furcolo signs legislation creating the Massachusetts Community College System.

BCC is accredited by the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

BCC holds its formal opening ceremony, state. Thomas O'Connell is installed as director (president). The campus is located at the former Central Annex building on Second Street in and legally separate from the school and was established to promote growth at BCC through fundraising.

Cathryn Addy takes over as president. The BCC Foundation purchases and renovates the former Whittaker's Garage building in Great Barrington, then opens the building as BCC's South County Center.

Barbara Viniar is named school president.

Online credit courses are offered

Bryan Blanchard is selected as school